

UTSouthwestern Medical Center

FAMILY MEDICINE ETHICS GRAND ROUNDS

Guidance for the Patient with Unintended Pregnancy for Primary Care

Jessica Rubino, MD

FREE ETHICS CME Dinner Program

Tuesday March 22, 2016

6:30 PM– 8:00 PM

William P. Clements University Hospital Education Center (2nd floor)
6201 Harry Hines Blvd, Dallas, TX 75390

Program Directors:

Tasaduq Mir, MD, FAAFP, Assistant Professor
Zaiba Jetpuri, DO, MBA, Assistant Professor

Expert Panel:

Neelima Kale, PhD, MD, MBA
Robin Wallace, MD, MAS
Krista Anders, MD, FACOG, FAAFP
Philip Day, PhD

Overview: This activity provides an opportunity to review and present what is relevant to primary care and advance experience about up to date information applicable to day-to-day practice. Unintended pregnancies and abortion are common in America, with 1 in 3 women having an abortion by the age of 45, according to the Guttmacher Institute. These women will often present to their Family Physician for a pregnancy test and counseling. Therefore, every Family Physician or Primary care physician needs to be prepared to handle this issue and be able to counsel a woman on her pregnancy test results, as well as pregnancy, adoption and abortion options. This Grand Rounds focuses on these things and additionally explores the ethics behind helping patients make this important decision. The ethical tenants of medical care are reviewed as well as conscientious refusal and conscientious provision of services, as they pertain to abortion services. This is a controversial topic, but our responsibility is to the care of our patients and their safety and autonomy. Every primary care physician needs to be able to navigate this issue with some ease and a strong base of knowledge.

More information is available at <https://cme.utsouthwestern.edu/familymedicine/>
RSVP directly at FMGrandRounds@utsouthwestern.edu

UT Southwestern Family Medicine Grand Rounds provide an updated scientific knowledge foundation which will enhance diagnosis and treatment in the care of our patients. Expert panel will discuss the most appropriate work-up and patient management.

This program is jointly provided by the UTSouthwestern Department of Family & Community Medicine and Office of Public Education and Continuing Medical Education

Accreditation: The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
These activities are approved for AMA Category 1 Credit(s)[™], up to 1.00 Prescribed credit(s) by the AAFP. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center designates this activity for 1 hour(s) in medical ethics and/or professional responsibility.