Dear Representative,

The UT Southwestern Thoracic Surgery Symposium: Lung and Mediastinal Diseases (RP2701C) will be held on Thursday and Friday; January 14 – 15, 2027. This continuing education activity will take place both virtually and live in-person at William P. Clements Jr. University Hospital Education and Conference Center in Dallas, TX. The symposium is sponsored by UT Southwestern Cardiovascular & Thoracic Surgery Department, and the Office of Continuing Education at UT Southwestern Medical Center.

The UT Southwestern Thoracic Surgery Symposium will focus on lung and mediastinal diseases. This hybrid course is designed to provide interprofessional teams who diagnose and treat lung and mediastinal diseases (thoracic surgery, interventional pulmonology, medical oncology, radiation oncology, radiology, pathology, APPs, Nurses, or residents) with a structured, high-quality educational experience. The course will also foster collaborative learning and strengthen interdisciplinary partnerships between internal thoracic specialists and external-referring physicians and advanced practice providers. Attendees will observe a livestream surgical case with real time commentary, didactic presentations and interactive Q&A with content experts.

Learning Objectives include:

- Describe current surgical and procedural advances in the management of lung and mediastinal diseases.
- Integrate evolving technologies into clinical decision making to enhance patient outcomes and align care with contemporary best practices.
- Identify practice capabilities across the lung cancer care continuum to support timely referrals and optimized coordination.

For a detailed agenda, please see the conference website: https://cme.utsouthwestern.edu/rp2701c

Benefits of Exhibiting
Meet one-on-one to discuss your products and services with medical professionals who will attend this meeting. Further benefits of exhibiting at the UT Southwestern Thoracic Surgery Symposium include:

- Exposure to approximately 100 attendees. Approximately 70% of the attendees are physicians
- Ample intermissions between morning and afternoon sessions allow time for attendees to visit your exhibit
- Build visibility for your company in a competitive marketplace
- Expand your prospective place and strengthen existing customer relationships

We look forward to your support and participation.

Regards,
