

UTSW Office of Continuing Medical Education

You may have heard about recent changes to the CME certification process for Grand Rounds activities. Please know that these changes allow us to improve our ACCME Compliance oversight for the close to 100 activities on campus while only requiring a few moments of your time.

Some changes you may notice over the next few weeks:

As an activity planner/contributor, you will receive automated emails from 'CME Registrations' with instructions for the completion of required documentation (please don't delete!)

Disclosure forms are now maintained under your Ethos profile – No more multiple disclosure forms!

All Conflict of Interest resolutions will be conducted through peer review within Ethos

Peer Reviewers will need to be assigned to all activities (What's that?\*)

**As an independent reviewer for UT Southwestern, your role is to validate content, and ensure the content is fair, balanced and free of commercial bias. Patient treatment recommendations should represent standard practice guidelines in the United States and research data should conform to research principles generally accepted by the scientific community. In addition, there is an evaluation of the disclosed relevant financial relationship in the context of the individual's role in planning and/or delivery of content.*

Thank you for your continued support and partnership with the UT Southwestern Office of Continuing Medical Education on your Regularly Scheduled Series (RSS) or Grand Rounds
