PURPOSE AND CONTENT

This live CME activity, aimed at neuroscience professionals – including physicians, advanced practice providers, nurses, and therapists – will explore the latest advances and current trends in neurology clinical practice and patient care. Didactic presentations, case studies, and panel discussions will present the most current information and address clinical practice challenges for advancing proper diagnoses and the best treatment modalities across a wide spectrum of neurological disorders.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

- Analyze efficacy and risks of new pharmacological therapies for the treatment and management of Myasthenia Gravis
- Recognize patterns on imaging studies to accurately diagnose and treat patients
- Recognize genetic forms of epilepsy, their manifestations, and management
- Learn about management of neuromuscular disorders in pregnancy
- Learn about the diagnosis and management of autoimmune encephalitis
- Understand the applications of alteplase and tenecteplase in stroke management
- Understand how neuromodulation can be applied in treatment of dystonia
- Recognize and manage REM sleep behavior disorder in neurodegenerative disorders
- Learn about new advances in dementia

TARGET AUDIENCE

Physicians, advanced practice providers, nurses, physical therapists, allied health professionals, and other health care professionals who are involved in the care of neurology patients.
